

Power of 10 Info was lost!

Written by Arthur D Piercy

Tuesday, 26 November 2013 14:24 - Last Updated Tuesday, 26 November 2013 14:46

PLEASE HELP!

A month or so ago the mother board of my PC crashed! I had to have a new board fitted but this required a reload of the operating systems which was successful. However I did loose some key software which I am struggling to reinstall successfully. The major program I cannot get restored effectively is 2007 Outlook.

The critical thing is that all your addresses and contact details are in Outlook. They are on the hard drive but I cannot currently access them.

In the interim I have a humble request. If you are a contributor to the Power of 10 Fund Raising campaign can you please send me an email with all your contact details on. I will be needing them in the near future to make contact with you!

Sorry for the inconvenience and I am really looking forward to hearing from you. Please spread the word around to all you think might be involved. You can email the info to arthur@projectdreamwings.co.za

PS. If you are not involved then please consider signing up and help me get this amazing project to its final destination.