The aircraft had to be moved!

Unfortunately we were forced to move the aircraft from our hangars at Wonderboom airport. The increase in the rent for the hangar was just beyond our reach so we had no other option but to move it.

We were very fortunate that the SAAF museum has given us a little corner in which the aircraft is currently standing. We are unable to work on the aircraft at the hangar as we need permission from the authorities to make use of the floor space we require.

We are busy negotiating with the SAAF and hopefully we will have an answer soon.
